Scouts NSW partners with The Crescent Foundation

Scouts NSW is excited to announce a three year partnership with The Crescent Foundation to support children and youth from refugee communities.

This partnership will allow Scouts NSW to work with and support new communities enabling children and youth from refugee families to enjoy the benefits of the Scouting program.

“Scouts NSW is proud to partner with a Foundation that is passionate about bringing positive change to Australian communities and that has a particular interest in supporting refugees,” said Chief Commissioner, Neville Tomkins OAM JP.

Each year, thousands of refugees arrive in Australia seeking a better life. Of the many challenges they face in a new land, finding ways to become a part of new communities is one the biggest.

“Assisting children from refugee families to participate in Scouting provides the opportunity for them to become involved their new community and in a safe and positive environment,” Neville Tomkins said

Scouts NSW and The Crescent Foundation share a strong vision of creating a culture of acceptance and community by giving support to those in the community who need it most.
